Dear Dr. Favour:

I would be obliged to you for a copy of your review on "Cell Injury in Allergic Inflammation" which appeared last year in the International Archives of Allergy. I would also be grateful to you for reprints of your other publications that deal with just this topic, which is an important element in a genetic theory of antibody formation. I look forward to joining Stanford as one of your colleagues within a very few months.

Yours sincerely,

Joshua Lederberg
Professor of Medical Genetics
